10 THE MOUNTAINS ARE GATES

- "In olden times, high places were built on mountains for a reason, to demonstrate the preeminence of the god of that mountain. The god of the high place was higher and greater, dominating the land below. Do not kid yourself: not one of these mountains will ever enjoy the enemy's neglect. He is fixed on them, targeting both human and the systems around which humans relate and depend. He is invested in every source of pleasure, comfort, justice, beauty, and truth, for these form the human experience. They are all on his calendar, his evil to-do list. He has sophisticated strategies for controlling and further corrupting each one, in hope of totally enslaving humanity and scheduling the earth for God's wrath.
- Now look at these seven mountains as seven huge gates. The high places of evil must be confronted. High places were to be torn down because they were gates; not only because worship and human immorality occurred there, but because they were sources of spiritual defilement for the land." (Page 160-161)

In your seed all the nations of the earth shall be blessed, because you have obeyed My voice." '
